

UKIYO

Here we are, finally, introducing the first pattern from our new Spring collection: Ukiyo.

This textile wallcovering is woven on a jacquard loom with a blended linen yarn sourced from the fashion industry. It has a slight shine look interacting perfectly with the matt natural linen. A great texture.

The horizontal uneven effect pattern is only slightly visible. More or less, according to light reflection and the linen color version. Inspired by the Japanese art craftsmanship from the late 17th century from which the origin of the name is just inspired. The term Ukiyo ("floating world") also symbolizes the hedonistic lifestyle that fits perfectly even with the metropolitan interior setting in which this contemporary wallcovering collection can be used.

Available in several natural colors. This wallcovering is easy to use and to install, it has a surface coating to protect against soil and oil and it is flame retardant.
